Mr Rakha — Competitor Scan

Oct 7, 2026 · @Nosseir

Every IGCSE Business teacher we found in Egypt markets himself as a revision service; nobody owns the premium, real-world "economist" brand, and that is Mr Rakha's opening.

Assem El Nady: direct competitor

His biggest audience is on Instagram (about 6.5K followers), but every page name sells him as "exam tips" and "notes". He's a revision resource, not an experience.

Field	What we found
Who	IGCSE Business teacher since Jan 2014; AUC graduate (Business Administration, Finance, Economics). Ran a luxury fashion brand, Boujee.Cai, from 2019 to 2021, so he understands branding.
Brand	"The Business Lounge", founded Jan 2022, plus his own name: "IG Business – Mr. Assem ElNady"
Subjects	Business at O-level, IGCSE and A-level. Economics not seen.
Instagram	@igbusinessassemelnady: 6,488 followers, 1,163 following, 63 posts
Facebook	IGBusinessExamTips: 743 followers, 666 likes
TikTok	@igcsebusinessassemelnady: 1.6K followers, 99.8K likes
Formats seen	Results-day celebration video ("A day to remember", posted 23 Feb 2024), O-level notes videos, subject advice ("The Essential IGCSE Subjects"), and collaborations with other teachers (Majdy El Baroudy, Dr Ahmed Shebl)
Posting rhythm	Low on Instagram: 63 posts in total. Rhythm on other platforms not visible.
Strengths to respect	12 years in the market, AUC credentials, results-day emotion content, a named brand, all three platforms already running

Field	What we found
Weaknesses to exploit	Page names lock him into revision ("Exam Tips", "Notes"); Business only; few posts; TikTok gets likes but people don't follow the brand; nothing premium or real-world in how he presents himself

Follower numbers come from search-engine snapshots, and their exact dates are unknown. Re-check them before quoting.

Market map

The local field is basic Facebook pages, and the global field is polished but generic. Nobody combines the two.

Player	Tier	Where	Look and content	Lesson for Mr Rakha
Assem El Nady	Direct	IG, FB, TikTok	Exam tips, notes, results day	Results-day emotion works. Don't copy the "tips page" framing.
Mrs Sally Mahfouz	Direct	Facebook (about 3K likes)	Economics, Business and Sociology info page	Parents still find tutors on Facebook, so FB stays in the mix.
Nadine Azzab	Direct	Review site listing	O-level Economics tutor	Reviews and word of mouth decide. Collect testimonials from day one.
Online platforms (Tutopiya, STO, Modarby)	Indirect	Web, ads	Price-led, "elite tutors", grade-jump claims	Parents compare on proof and price. His edge is the person, not the platform.
tutor2u	Aspirational	TikTok, IG, YouTube	60-second economics revision shorts	Proof that short, calm economics explainers grow on TikTok

Player	Tier	Where	Look and content	Lesson for Mr Rakha
Economics Explained	Aspirational	YouTube	Polished deep dives on a country's economy	The look and authority to aim for, done in Egypt with an exam angle

Gaps to own

Own the premium, real-world brand that also covers Economics, and win on the 2027 syllabus change before anyone else talks about it.

What everyone does (avoid):

- "Groups starting now" posters, schedules and phone numbers as the main content
- Notes and PDFs as the hook
- Loud thumbnails, stock graphics, emoji captions
- Results posts that only list grades, with no story

Gaps Mr Rakha can own:

1. The real-world economist. He explains Egyptian business and economics news through the syllabus. No Egyptian IGCSE teacher does this. It also trains the skill the new exam rewards most: from 2027, Business 0264 shifts marks toward application (see the Market Brief).
2. Business and Economics together. Assem covers Business only.
3. The class as an experience. Show how a lesson feels, with the board, the questions and the student's "aha", instead of announcing that groups are open.
4. Editorial premium look. A Financial Times or Economist style that stands out in a feed of loud tutor posters, and that parents read as quality.
5. The 0450 to 0264 change. Be the calm voice explaining what changes in March 2027.

Threats:

- Assem already has a following and a fashion-trained eye. If he rebrands premium, the gap narrows. Rescan monthly.
- Online platforms advertise low hourly prices (from about 350 EGP per hour), so parents may compare on price.
- A hesitant on-camera presence can make the content feel cold. The class clips and the student moments have to carry the warmth.

Limits and sources

This cloud session's network blocks Instagram, TikTok, Facebook and LinkedIn. Everything above comes from search-engine results, not from opening the profiles. His top posts and exact posting rhythm are still unverified. Next rescan: early November 2026.
