Mr Rakha — Shoot Day 1 Production Pack

Oct 10, 2026 · @Nosseir

Everything needed to film November in one day: 4 Briefs, 2 exam reels, the "Who I am" film and a short on-camera test. Scripts are drafts. Mr Rakha approves or changes them 2 days before the shoot, and his corrections to the Arabic go into the voice bank.

Before the shoot

The scripts are short on purpose. Each Brief is about 40 seconds, written so Mr Rakha talks to his students at the board, not to the camera.

Approval checklist (2 days before the shoot):

- [ ] Mr Rakha reads every Arabic line out loud and changes anything that doesn't sound like him
- [ ] He confirms each example is accurate (prices, fees, dates) or swaps in his own
- [ ] He picks his closing tag: "…and that's how it's examined" (English) or "…وده بقى بيجي في الامتحان إزاي" (Arabic)
- [ ] Consent forms are signed for every student who appears on camera

Rules from the 10 Oct intel (why the scripts are written this way):

- Never grade-shame. Assem's "Grade for Life" video drew a top comment from a student who felt "like a failure". Rakha is the teacher who makes a B student feel capable.
- Show, don't claim. At least 3 other tutors now say "business isn't memorising". Rakha never says it; every Brief proves it with a real object on the table.
- Avoid their phrases: no "Think Business" (Karim Ashmawy, Marwa Sadek) and no "more than teaching" (Mohamed Saeed).
- Numbered stakes earn saves in Egypt (Dr Amr Hady's "3 things to get an A*": 1,555 shares). The exam reels use numbers.

How to read the scripts: each table runs Time · Beat (what the moment does) · Shot · English · spoken Egyptian Arabic. Business terms stay in English inside the Arabic, the way IGCSE classes really sound. Marks: ✅ = confident, ⚠️ = check with him. On-screen captions are in English (brand rule); he speaks Arabic.

Brief No. 01: The cinema Pepsi

Concept: monopoly power and price makers. About 40 seconds. Props: a cinema cup or can plus a supermarket can of the same drink, and his own cinema receipt if he has one. Post: Tue 3 Nov.

Time	Beat	Shot	English	مصري (spoken)
0–2s	Signature open	Close-up: he writes MONOPOLY on the board; marker squeak	(no speech)	(no speech) ✅
2–5s	Hook	Mid shot: he puts the two drinks side by side on the desk	"Same can. Same Pepsi. So why does this one cost so much more?"	"نفس الكانز، نفس البيبسي. طب ليه دي غالية كده؟" ✅ · alt: "ليه البيبسي دي بضعف التمن؟"
5–12s	Answer, part 1	He taps the cinema cup	"Because once you're inside the cinema, there's only one seller."	"عشان أول ما تدخل السينما، مفيش غير بايع واحد." ✅
12–18s	Name it	Students laugh or nod (reaction cutaway)	"You can't pop out to the shop next door. You're a captive customer."	"مش هتقوم تجيب من السوبرماركت اللي جنبك. إنت كده captive customer." ⚠️
18–26s	Syllabus link	He writes under MONOPOLY: one seller → price maker	"One seller, no close substitutes: that's monopoly power. The seller becomes a price maker, not a price taker."	"بايع واحد ومفيش بدايل قريبة، ده اسمه monopoly power. وساعتها البايع بيبقى price maker مش price taker." ✅
26–34s	Twist (student)	He turns to a student	"So why don't they charge 500 pounds?" (student answers) "Exactly. Push too far and people skip the drink. Demand still has a limit."	"طب ليه ما يبيعوهاش بـ500 جنيه؟" … "بالظبط. لو زوّدوا أوي، الناس هتستغنى عن المشروب خالص. الـdemand ليه حدود." ✅

Time	Beat	Shot	English	مصري (spoken)
34–40s	Payoff + tag	Wide shot: board, two drinks, him smiling	"Monopoly power with a demand limit. That's a full answer in Paper 1… and that's how it's examined."	"monopoly power وليها حدود من الـdemand. دي إجابة كاملة في Paper 1… وده بقى بيجي في الامتحان إزاي." ⚠️

On-screen text: 0–2s "THE BRIEF · No. 01" · 18s "MONOPOLY POWER = PRICE MAKER" · 34s "Paper 1: monopoly + limits of demand". Caption (draft): "Same drink, different price. The difference has a name, and it's in your syllabus. The Brief, No. 01." Check: keep the price claim loose ("so much more"). Don't name the cinema chain.

Brief No. 02: The small fees

Concept: price elasticity of demand (PED). About 40 seconds. Props: a printed dummy delivery receipt with "service fee" and "small order fee" lines (no real app logo). Post: Tue 10 Nov.

Time	Beat	Shot	English	مصري (spoken)
0–2s	Signature open	He writes PED on the board	(no speech)	(no speech) ✅
2–6s	Hook	He holds up the receipt and points to the fee lines	"Service fee. Small order fee. Why not just raise the price of the burger?"	"Service fee، small order fee… طب ما يغلّوا البرجر وخلاص؟" ✅
6–14s	Answer	Mid shot	"Because small fees are a test: how much more will you pay before you stop ordering?"	"عشان المصاريف الصغيرة دي تست: هتدفع كام زيادة قبل ما تبطّل تطلب؟" ✅
14–22s	Syllabus link	He writes: price ↑, quantity barely ↓ = inelastic	"If the price goes up and you keep ordering, your demand is price inelastic."	"لو السعر زاد وإنت لسه بتطلب عادي، يبقى الـdemand بتاعك price inelastic." ✅

Time	Beat	Shot	English	مصري (spoken)
22–30s	Joke + example	A student laughs	"And nothing is more inelastic than you at 1 a.m., hungry, during revision week."	"ومفيش حاجة inelastic أكتر منك الساعة 1 بالليل، جعان، في أسبوع المراجعة." ⚠️ (check the joke lands in his voice)
30–40s	Payoff + tag	Wide shot of the board	"Inelastic demand means a business can raise its price and its revenue goes up. Remember the formula on the board… and that's how it's examined."	"يبقى demandلما الـ inelastic، الشركة تقدر تغلّي السعر والـ revenueيزيد. افتكروا الـ formula اللي على السبورة… وده بقى بيجي في الامتحان إزاي." ✅

On the board by the end: PED = % change in quantity demanded ÷ % change in price. On-screen text: "THE BRIEF · No. 02" · "PRICE INELASTIC = you keep ordering". Caption (draft): "That 'small' fee is a question about you. Your syllabus has the answer. The Brief, No. 02." Check: don't name any delivery app; the receipt is generic.

Brief No. 03: Gold

Concept: inflation and the purchasing power of money (Economics). About 40 seconds. Props: a 100 EGP note, a small gold item (or a printed photo of one), and a shopping basket with 3 items. Post: Tue 17 Nov.

Time	Beat	Shot	English	مصري (spoken)
0–2s	Signature open	He writes INFLATION	(no speech)	(no speech) ✅
2–6s	Hook	The 100 EGP note and the gold side by side	"When prices rise in Egypt, why does everyone's mum start talking about gold?"	"ليه أول ما الأسعار تزيد، مامتك تبدأ تتكلم عن الدهب؟" ✅ · alt: "ليه كل البيوت بتجري على الدهب مع الغلا؟"
6–14s	Show it	He takes items out of the basket one by one	"Because the same 100 pounds buys less every year. That's inflation."	"عشان نفس الـ100 جنيه بتجيب حاجات أقل كل سنة. ده الـinflation." ✅

Time	Beat	Shot	English	مصري (spoken)
14–22s	Syllabus link	He writes: money loses purchasing power	"Inflation cuts the purchasing power of money. So people look for something that keeps its value."	"الـinflation بيقلل الـpurchasing power بتاع الفلوس. فالناس بتدوّر على حاجة تحافظ على قيمتها." ✅
22–30s	Name it	He holds up the gold	"In Economics we call that a store of value. Money is supposed to be one, but when inflation is high, people trust gold more."	"ده في الـEconomics اسمه store of value. الفلوس المفروض تبقى store of value، بس لما الـinflation يعلى، الناس بتثق في الدهب أكتر." ✅
30–40s	Payoff + tag	Wide shot	"So your mum isn't panicking. She's protecting purchasing power. That's an evaluation point… and that's how it's examined."	"يبقى مامتك مش بتقلق وخلاص، دي بتحمي الـpurchasing power. ده evaluation point… وده بقى بيجي في الامتحان إزاي." ⚠️

On-screen text: "THE BRIEF · No. 03" · "INFLATION ↓ PURCHASING POWER" · "STORE OF VALUE". Caption (draft): "The economics lesson happening in every Egyptian kitchen. The Brief, No. 03." Check: this is an Economics explanation, not investment advice. No gold prices, no "buy gold". The "mum" line is warm, never mocking. Parents share this one.

Brief No. 04: The White Friday discount

Concept: pricing strategies (psychological pricing and price anchoring). About 40 seconds. Props: two printed price tags, "~~2,000~~ 999 EGP" and "1,000 EGP". Post: Tue 24 Nov, the week of White Friday.

Time	Beat	Shot	English	مصري (spoken)
0–2s	Signature open	He writes ANCHOR	(no speech)	(no speech) ✅
2–6s	Hook	He holds up the tag with 2,000 crossed out and 999 below	"Was 2,000, now 999. Quick question: was it ever 2,000?"	"كان بـ 2,000 وبقى بـ999. سؤال بسيط: هو كان بـ 2,000 أصلاً؟" ✅

Time	Beat	Shot	English	مصري (spoken)
6–14s	Mechanism 1	He points at the crossed-out number	"That first number is an anchor. Your brain uses it to judge the second one."	"الرقم الأول ده اسمه anchor. دماغك بيقيس عليه الرقم التاني." ✅
14–22s	Mechanism 2	Both tags side by side: 999 and 1,000	"And why 999, not 1,000? One pound difference, but it feels like 'under a thousand'."	"وليه 999 مش 1,000؟ فرق جنيه واحد، بس بتحسها 'أقل من ألف'." ✅
22–30s	Syllabus link	He writes: psychological pricing	"In your syllabus that's psychological pricing. Businesses use it to make prices feel lower than they are."	"ده في المنهج اسمه psychological pricing. الشركات بتستخدمه عشان السعر يبان أقل من حقيقته." ✅
30–40s	Payoff + tag	Mid shot, calm	"Some discounts are real, some are anchors. Knowing the difference is a skill, and a Paper 1 answer… and that's how it's examined."	"فيه خصومات حقيقية وفيه anchors. إنك تفرّق بينهم دي مهارة، وكمان إجابة في Paper 1… وده بقى بيجي في الامتحان إزاي." ⚠️

On-screen text: "THE BRIEF · No. 04" · "ANCHOR → 999 FEELS CHEAPER". Caption (draft): "Before you check out this White Friday: read the price like an economist. The Brief, No. 04." Check: never accuse a named store of fake discounts. The tags are generic.

Exam reels

Two reels for the "Where the marks go" pillar, each about 40 seconds and numbered for saves. Post: Sun 8 Nov and Sun 22 Nov.

Exam reel 1: One example, three answers

The board is split into 3 columns: EXPLAIN · ANALYSE · EVALUATE. The example is "A café raises its prices by 20%."

Time	Beat	English	مصري (spoken)
0–4s	Hook	"Explain, analyse, evaluate. Three words, three different answers. Most students write the same one three times."	"Explain، analyse، evaluate. تلات كلمات، تلات إجابات مختلفة. وأغلب الطلبة بيكتبوا نفس الإجابة تلات مرات." ✅
4–12s	1. Explain	"Explain wants a link: the price goes up, so customers may buy less."	"عايز ربط: السعر زاد، الـExplain فالزباين ممكن يشتروا أقل." ✅
12–22s	2. Analyse	"Analyse wants a chain: they buy less, so revenue falls, so the café may cut staff hours."	"عايز سلسلة: يشتروا أقل، الـAnalyse يقل، فالكافيه ممكن يقلل الـrevenue ساعات الشغل." ✅
22–34s	3. Evaluate	"Evaluate wants a decision. It depends: if the café is the only one near the university, demand is inelastic and revenue might rise. So, on balance…"	"عايز قرار الـEvaluate. It depends: لو ده الكافيه الوحيد جنب الجامعة، الـdemand هيبقى inelastic ممكن يزيد، يبقى الـrevenue on balance…" ✅
34–40s	Payoff + tag	"Link, chain, decision. Write the word your question asks for… and that's how it's examined."	"ربط، سلسلة، قرار. اكتب اللي السؤال طالبه… وده بقى بيجي في الامتحان إزاي." ✅

On-screen text: "WHERE THE MARKS GO · 01" · the three words appear as he says them: LINK → CHAIN → DECISION.

Exam reel 2: Read the Paper 2 case like a consultant (3 steps)

The hook ties to the 2027 change: in Business 0264, every Paper 2 part (a) is applied to the case. Prop: a printed one-page practice case (written by us, not a past-paper scan).

Time	Beat	English	مصري (spoken)
0–5s	Hook	"From 2027, every Paper 2 question wants the case in your answer. So stop reading it like a story. Read it like a consultant."	"عايز Paper 2 من 2027، كل سؤال في الـcase في إجابتك. فبطّل تقراه زي حدوتة، اقراه زي consultant." ⚠️
5–15s	Step 1	"One: circle what the owner wants: profit, growth, survival."	"واحد: اعمل دايرة على اللي صاحب البيزنس عايزه: profit، growth، survival." ✅
15–24s	Step 2	"Two: underline every number. Numbers are your evidence."	"اتنين: حط خط تحت كل رقم. الأرقام بتاعك هي الـevidence." ✅

Time	Beat	English	مصري (spoken)
24–34s	Step 3	"Three: find the problem before you read the questions. They're almost always about it."	"تلاتة: لاقي المشكلة قبل ما تقرا الأسئلة. غالباً الأسئلة كلها عنها." ✅
34–40s	Payoff + tag	"Objective, evidence, problem. Now the case writes half your answer… and that's how it's examined."	"Objective، evidence، problem. هيكتبلك نص الإجابة… وده caseكده الـ بقى بيجي في الامتحان إزاي." ✅

Check: "from 2027" is accurate for Business 0264 (first exams March 2027). If most of his students sit the old 0450 in May/June 2027, he should say "from the new syllabus" instead.

Pin 1 film and the on-camera test

The "Who I am" film (about 30 seconds, posted Sun 1 Nov and pinned) is built mostly from real class footage, with one line from him at the end. It is cut to calm piano or strings, never a trending sound.

Time	Shot	On screen
0–3s	Extreme close-up: marker cap clicks off, he writes THE BRIEF	—
3–10s	Hands-and-board montage: three Brief words appear (MONOPOLY, PED, INFLATION)	"IGCSE & O-level Business · Economics"
10–18s	Students: a raised hand, a laugh, a student explaining back to him (consented faces only)	—
18–24s	He listens to a student, nods, writes their answer up	"10+ years in the classroom"
24–30s	Mid shot: he turns to the camera for the first and only time	His line (below). No logo end card: it ends on his face, with the tagline as text

His one line for the film (pick the version that sounds most like him on the day):

- A: "Business is everywhere. My job is to help you see it, and write it." / "الـBusiness في كل حتة. شغلتي إني أخليك تشوفه… وتعرف تكتبه." ✅

- B: "Business, explained like it matters." (English only, calm, with a slight smile) ✅
- C: no line; he just looks up from the board and the tagline appears. This is the fallback if he's uncomfortable.

Teleprompter sheet: the on-camera test (4:00–4:30 on the run sheet)

One line at a time, 3 takes each, no pressure. Keep only what looks natural.

1. Tag line: "…and that's how it's examined." / "…وده بقى بيجي في الامتحان إزاي."
2. Parent line: "A 5 isn't a verdict. It's information, and we can work with information." / "الـ 5 مش حكم نهائي. دي معلومة، وإحنا نقدر نشتغل على المعلومة." ✅ (This answers the "I feel like a failure" comment on Assem's video.)
3. Hello line: "I'm Mohamed Rakha. I teach Business and Economics, and I'm going to ruin shopping for you, in the best way." / "أنا محمد رخا. بدرّس Business وEconomics، وهخليك تشوف أي حاجة بتشتريها بعين تانية." ⚠️ (witty; keep only if it sounds like him)
4. Teaser for the next Brief: "Next Brief: why your delivery app keeps adding fees." / "الـBrief الجاي: ليه الـapp بتاع الدليفري بيزود مصاريف صغيرة." ✅

If lines 2–3 come out natural, they unlock the 19 Nov parent reel ("Three questions to ask any IGCSE tutor") as a talking piece instead of a carousel.

Shot list, props, kit and consent

Everything below is filmed in his own center, never at a school. No uniforms, school logos or school buildings should appear in any frame.

Shot list (tick on the day):

- [ ] Pin 1 film: marker-cap extreme close-up, writing THE BRIEF, the three Brief words, student hands up, a student explaining, him listening, the one camera look
- [ ] Briefs 01–04: board-word opener (tight), the hook with props (mid), the syllabus line written on the board (over the shoulder), a student reaction cutaway, a wide payoff. 3 takes each
- [ ] Exam reels 1–2: three-column board build, a top-down shot of the case on paper with a pen circling and underlining
- [ ] On-camera test: 4 teleprompter lines, 3 takes each
- [ ] B-roll bank: hands writing, marker cap, marker squeak close-up, flipping a practice paper (ours), coffee on the desk, him walking into class, the board wiped clean
- [ ] Photos: headshot at the board (profile picture), wide classroom portrait (Facebook cover), 10 detail stills for carousels
- [ ] Testimonials: 2–3 students or parents, 3 questions each

Props:

- [ ] Cinema cup and supermarket can of the same drink
- [ ] Dummy delivery receipt with fee lines (no app logo)
- [ ] 100 EGP note, a small gold item or photo, a basket with 3 grocery items
- [ ] Two price tags: "~~2,000~~ 999 EGP" and "1,000 EGP"
- [ ] A one-page practice Paper 2 case (we write it) and a dark brown pen
- [ ] Clean whiteboard, 3 black markers and 1 brown marker (the brand's cognac accent)

Kit: phone in 4K at 25 fps, tripod + gimbal, lavalier mic (wired backup), reflector, teleprompter app, power bank, spare batteries, lens cloth.

Wardrobe (Whisky Lounge palette): a dark blazer (black or charcoal) with a cream or white shirt; a second look in a cognac or brown knit. No logos, no stripes, no bright colours. Beard freshly groomed. A matte balm on the head to cut shine under the lights.

Testimonial questions: 1) What was Business or Economics like for you before this class? 2) What changed? 3) One word for the class? Never ask about grades on camera unless the student offers it.

Consent form text (print, one per person):

> I agree that photos and videos of me filmed on [date] at Mr Rakha's class may be used on Mr Rakha's social media (Instagram, TikTok, Facebook) and WhatsApp channel. I can ask for any post to be removed at any time by messaging [WhatsApp number]. Name: _____ Signature: _____ Date: _____ For students under 18: Parent/guardian name: _____ Signature: _____

After the shoot: edit Pin 1, Brief 01 and Brief 02 first, then the exam reels. Export 9:16 at 1080×1920 with captions inside the safe zone. Send every edit back for one approval round before 30 Oct.
